IMPORTANT

The foregoing prices, having been cut to meet competition, must not be taken as an indication that our standard of quality has been lowered. On the contrary, we expect to handle our plants more carefully than ever before, if that is possible. Some customers very graciously reported our plants last season, to be the best they had ever received from any source. We feel that this coveted honor is worth guarding with all diligence. Accordingly, when you order from us you may expect to receive plants second to none, in quality.
